NEW WEED SEWING MACHINE
THE LAST AND BEST.

THE New Weed Sewing Machine Company have now at last completed their Three Standard Styles of Weed Sewing Machines.

First—Their New "Family Favorite." Second—Their New, Light and Noiseless Manufacturers' Sewing Machine. Thirdly—Their immense heavy "Manufacturers' Favorite." The three together combining the advantages of all others up to the present time, being the BEST made and doing the best work—has received throughout Europe, the States, and upon this Coast, the

First and Highest Premium

at each and every public Fair since 1867 (the year it was completed), where any premium at all has been given or where its strong points have been really exhibited.

There is a difference!—All the premiums that the WEED Sewing Machine Company claim, from the

First and Highest Premium at the Great World's Fair at Paris, 1867

up to the present time, (see small circulars) are each and every one GENUINE Awards, or we will forfeit $500 for each and every false claim! Other Sewing Machines have had their Premiums but how many of them in the last two years?

There is a difference! says the "True Chronicle:" "This magnificent Sewing Machine comes forward in good time, and strikes exactly the right mark." Also, the editor of the "Independent" says, "Such a Sewing Machine as the WEED—the New F. F.—we have never seen." Thus the New WEED Sewing Machine is the

SIMPLEST AND STRONGEST,

the Last, and as we believe in modern improvement we may add the BEST Sewing Machine made as yet. It is the best Family Sewing Machine; it is the best Boot, Tailor's, Saddler's Sewing Machine; it is the most successful Sewing Machine! For already its name is a household word in both Europe and America, and is rapidly taking the place of all others. Its immense central Manufactory is in Hartford, Connecticut.

Grover & Baker's
ELASTIC STITCH
FAMILY
SEWING MACHINES
Excel all others.

They are more simple and durable, easier kept in order, make a stronger and more elastic stitch, a firmer and more beautiful seam than any other. They sew all fabrics from two common spools, require no rewinding o thread, fasten both ends of the seam by their own operation, and though every fifth stitch is cut the seam will not rip.

They Stitch, Hem, Fell, Cord, Bind, Tuck, Quilt, Gather, Braid, Embroider, Ruffle, Puff, and excel in Every Class of Machine Work.

Grover & Baker's
Improved Shuttle Stitch
SEWING MACHINES,
For Manufacturing,
Are the Latest and Best.

We request the attention of Tailors, Manufacturers of Boots and Shoes, Carriage Trimmings, Clothing, and all others requiring the use of the most effective Jones' Ferry, Aug. 24th, 1870.

Rock Me to Sleep, Mother.

The publication of this beautiful piece happened in 1861, immediately after the breaking out of the rebellion; it was seized upon by the newspapers of the country as something rare. No owner appearing for the fugitive, some discussion arose as to its authorship, and five or six persons in the Northern States laid claim to it. It was originally published under the nom de plume of Florence Percy, and was set to music by eight different composers, and thousands upon thousands were sold. It now turns out that the poetry was written in South Carolina by Mrs. Elizabeth Akers, widow of Paul Akers, the sculptor, who, until recently, has been unable to establish her claims to its authorship. Untold sums have been realized from her talent, yet this poor widow, whose verses have and will please millions, never received a farthing for its composition. Justice should be done her. So says the Pioneer:

Backward, turn backward, oh, time, in your flight;
Make me a child again, just for to-night!
Mother come back from the echoless shore,
Take me to your arms again, as of yore;
Kiss from my forehead the furrows of care,
Smooth the few silver threads out of my hair;
Over my slumbers your loving watch keep,
Rock me to sleep, mother, rock me to sleep.

Backward, flow backward, oh, tide of the years;
I am so weary of toil and of tears;
Toil without recompense—tears all in vain.
Take them—and give me my childhood again!
I have grown weary of dust and decay,
Weary of flinging my soul-wealth away,
Weary of sowing for others to reap,
Rock me to sleep, mother, rock me to sleep.

Tired of the hollow, the base, the untrue,
Mother, oh, mother, my heart calls for you;
Many a summer the grass has grown green,
Blossomed and faded, our faces between.
Yet, with strong yearning and passionate pain,
Long I to-night for your presence again;
Come from the silence, so long and so deep,
Rock me to sleep, mother, rock me to sleep.

Come, let your brown hair, just lighted with gold,
Fall on your shoulders again as of old;
Let it drop over my forehead to-night,
Shading my faint eyes away from the light.
For, with its sunny-edged shadows once more.
Haply will throng the sweet visons of yore—
Lovingly, softly, its bright billows sweep!
Rock me to sleep, mother, rock me to sleep.

Mother, dear mother, the years have been long,
Since I first listed your lullaby song;
Sing, then, and unto my soul it shall seem
Womanhood's years have been only a dream—
Clasped to your heart in a loving embrace,
With your light lashes just sweeping my face,
Never hereafter to wake or to weep,
Rock me to sleep, mother, rock me to sleep.

CHRISTMAS CHIMES.

"Christmas Eve, to be sure! You'll come, won't you? Muffins and all first rate! De-e-lightful!" sighed Timothy, ecstatically; "the nicest little tea party I ever had."

Dame Charmberry dropped her knitting and pricked up her ears, but her spouse, who had been dozing comfortably in the great corner settee, gave only a sound snore, and made no further remark.

"Tea party, indeed!" quoth Dame Charmberry, "what's he up to now? Who's he after? That horrid smart bar maid at the 'Blue Cow,' I'll bet a shilling! But I'll spoil his tea parties for him, I'll go bail. Here Timothy! hoo-oo-o, man! to bed, and don't lie snoring there, like a raging lion going about to dewour."

And, by dint of thumps, scratches, pinches and pushes, supplemented by a very vigorous shaking, she aroused the poor little man and hunted him off to his dormitory.

Timothy Charmberry was the smallest and shortest man in the rambling parish of Hucklebroom, and, as such tiny specimens do (from some mysterious influence I leave to more scientific folks to explain), had married one of the biggest women for miles around: for his wife was six feet high and stout in proportion. Now, much no doubt as Timothy had admired this colossal stature in his bride in earlier days, it had its disadvantages, for she was most emphatically his better half in every sense of the word; in fact, to speak accurately, his three-quarters. Poor Timothy, moreover, labored under an affliction which practically diminished his chances of ruler-ship, for he was as deaf as Dame Eleanor Spearing—

"Deaf to verbs and all their compoundings,
Adjective, noun, and adverb, and particle,
Deaf to even the definite article."

Now, unfortunately, Dame Charmberry had also a failing—an absurd one, alas! to her sex—she was most unreasonably jealous. Poor little meek Timothy, who never could have screwed up courage enough to say "Bo!" to a mouse, much less to a goose, was far too modest to give her any cause or reason for her disease, and being, moreover, of a small size, was liable to be overlooked by most of the blooming maidens and buxom widows of Hucklebroom. Besides, Timothy's eyes were not a pair, albeit both gooseberry green; and the fringe of thin, lank hair that adorned his little half-bald skull was more of the color of unravelled string than anything else; over and above that, one bony shoulder was higher than the other, and he had a club foot. Now, the veriest old maid in Hucklebroom could not have conjured him into an Adonis; but Dame Charmberry doubtless imagined that the charms which had captured her large heart might prove dangerous to others; and thus, although a good, kind hearted woman in the main, she worried both him and herself to death. On account of his deafness, she could not curtain-lecture him, for Mrs. Caudle herself could not have made him hear a syllable, and though a series of signs did tolerably well for the usual mode of communication they were not sufficient to relieve her overcharged bosom. Consequently her rage diverted from this safety valve, fell to other modes of punishment. She was too tender hearted to inflict personal chastisement on him, and therefore, when her rage got beyond endurance, she treated him in an original fashion, by placing all articles of food, his favorite dainties especially, on such a very high shelf that he could not get at them without walking half a mile to borrow Sandy Sawpit's ladder, and then she went out to tea.

Poor Timothy bore all this as meekly as he could, for he did not quite discover her drift in it all, and failed to comprehend her motives.

On the present occasion, Mrs. Charmberry, having heard these few muttered words fall from Timothy's sleeping lips, felt convinced that he meditated some amorous appointment shortly, and in the secret rage of her heart resolved to discover the whole. So she dissembled her wrath, and the next day announced her intention of going to drink tea with her mother on Christmas Eve.

"Yes, my dear," replied Timothy, "to be sure so you shall, and as early as you like, too. It's the blessed Christmas time, and everybody ought to enjoy themselves."

And Timothy rubbed his skinny hands and winked his goggle eyes through his great horn spectacles, like an owl in daylight, and stitched away faster than ever, for he was a tailor, and was putting a patch in the parish clerk's best black indispensables against next Sunday, which was also Christmas Day.

"Enjoy themselves, indeed!" said Dame Charmberry, indignantly, shaking her head and poking the broomstick at him. "Ah, you faithless villain! you think you will, I dare say, you false, deceiving monster! But I'll circumvent your tea party, or my name isn't Ruth Charmberry."

"Yes, my dear, to be sure you shall!" replied the unconscious Timothy, complacently, who heard and saw nothing, but went stitching on with his face to the window, which so exasperated the wife of his bosom that she gave the board such a violent shake that down went Timothy, thimble and all. Quite unconscious, however, of the cause of the accident, he picked himself meekly up, with the rest of his scattered belongings, and resumed his seat with all the calm of a Mohammedan, while Dame Charmberry vented the rest of her wrath on the dog, who fled, howling miserably.

Christmas Eve came, and after their frugal meal Dame Charmberry, first setting her house in the strictest order, departed, giving a last glance at the high shelf, on which she had put the teapot and loaf. Timothy saw her to the gate, and there stood rubbing his hands as usual to the ghost of a whistle, and watched her on her way down the long village street, past the butcher's, past the "Blue Cow," beyond the general shop, past Sandy Sawpit's, and at last vanishing in the dim distance up Mill Lane.

"I'll have a holiday, too," says Timothy, "it's Christmas time, and I'll go on a spree; Oh, la! if Ruth only heard me! She's a dear, good soul, but awful strict. She wouldn't trust me with a sixpence, I'm sure, if I was to ask her, for fear I'd spend it at the 'Blue Cow;' but, la! I shouldn't. And here's the young Squir's half crown, as'll provide for my tea party handsome."

And Timothy chuckled so that his spectacles fell off, only, luckily, they dropped on the flat box bush by the door, unharmed; but he was so sobered down by the fright that he left off talking to himself, and went quietly in to finish his work, as if Ruth herself had been there. When he had completed his job he put all tidily away, and his next proceedings might have aroused Dame Charmberry's suspicions more than ever, for he took down his old hat from behind the door, and then, after a long search, perched her own market basket on his arm, and fastening the door, set off jauntily down street, with a sprig of holly he had picked on the way, in his button-hole. We will follow in his footsteps, and by so doing we are brought to the threshold of the general shop, where he marched in boldly up to the counter.

"La, Mr. Charmberry! what can we do for you? It's an age since I've seen you," shouted Mrs. Dubbitts at the top of her voice. "I've some prime Christmas tea just in—Hykey Pekoo, just such as missis would like."

"I want some tea, mem, if you please," replied Timothy, in his thin, reedy voice, "but please to write the price of it on the slate, for I'm harder of hearing nor ever."

Mrs. Dubbitts complied, and then took Timothy's order for a quarter of tea, a pound of sugar, best raw, threepenn'orth of fresh crumpets and some golden syrup, lending him a little jar for the last, and then he wound up his extravagance actually by selecting a big Sally Lunn—such a plump, well browned, fat looking pincushion of a teacake that Timothy smacked his lips in anticipation. He completed his enormities by packing all these carefully in his wife's market basket and carrying them off, in spite of Mrs. Dubbitts' offer to send them for him

"I s'pose you and your good lady's going to have a treat?" roared Mrs. Dubbitts, "I'm sure I wish you a merry Christmas."

"N-no," stammered Timothy, nervously, catching the first part of her speech, "not exactly. Please don't mention it. Thank you. Good night!"

"Old Tim's going to have a treat on the sly," said Mrs. Dubbitts to her shop boy.

"I seed her a-postin' down this arternoon," replied the latter, "so he's seed her off, I s'pose, and then gone in for wittles."

We must now leave Timothy on certain further rambles, and follow Mrs. Charmberry, whom we shall find, not at her mother's, but sitting in gloomy state in the small parlor of the Rev. Ebenezer Scratchit, the minister of her own particular denomination, to whom she has come for counsel and advice in her sore disquiet. He has just proposed to accompany her home in order to convict the culprit and bring him to a sense of his wickedness. It is a bitter cold night, and the pastor insists on his visitor partaking of some spiced elder wine, which his helpmate, Mrs. Scratchit, serves grimly on the testimonial salver, with some fossil biscuits of antediluvian bakery, of so flinty a nature are they. This modest refection concluded, the minister and Mrs. Charmberry set off, and after a brisk walk soon reached the cottage, which they aproached silently and with some caution. Some hours had elapsed, and the cold white moonlight was already painting the shadows of the yew and box bushes on the pathway; but inside no doubt there was no lack of light and warmth, to judge from the bright firelight that glimmered under the crack of the door. The checked blue curtains were so closely drawn over the windows that the watchers could find no chink for observation.

"I wonder what vile hussey is in there, now," muttered Mrs. Charmberry, grinding her teeth at the thought.

"Hush!" replied her companion; "he's singing, and it isn't a hymn!"

"It's what he used to sing when he came a-courting of me," said Ruth, between a sigh and a groan.

And verily Timothy's weak voice was heard heartily caroling—

"The happiest hours that e'er I spent
Were spent among the lasses, oh!"

"Oh, sinful flesh, sinful flesh!" groaned the Rev. Ebenezer.

"He's a talking," whispered Ruth, pinching him to enforce silence; let's open the door a crack—he can't hear, nor can't see, because the settle is between us and the door."

"Here Lucy, my dear, here's some stunning good tea for you, and I hope you'll enjoy it, and here's my love to you, and a merry Christmas and many of 'em! Cheer up, old girl! you're looking quite young and lively, I can tell you. ("Brute!" muttered Mrs. C., outside). "Such tea as this will warm up the cockles of your heart. And such sugar, too! sparkling like the boughs in a frost. And Nancy, my dear, here's such a Sally Lunn for you. I fell in love with it on Mrs. Dubbitts' counter, so thick and well baked; and here's plenty of butter to baste it well with." ("The heathen!" muttered Ruth; "there's two on 'em, then?") "Hetty, my lass! I've not forgotten you; do try these crumpets, and this golden syrup is for the young 'un!"

"He's a regular Mormon," growled the Rev. Ebenezer.

But Ruth could bear it no longer. In she rushed, dashing open the door, and like a whirlwind, followed by the minister, upon poor Timothy, who was peacefully seated alone by the fire, sharing his meagre meal of tea and dry bread—with the cat.

"This be an unexpected honor, sir," said Timothy, recovering his senses first, and getting up. "Ruth, why don't'ee duss a chair for the gentleman?"

The preacher and Mrs. Charmberry looked very foolishly one at the other. At last the Rev. Ebenezer spoke up, by shouting in his ear.

'We heard you talking out loud, Mr. Charmberry; we thought you had company.'

'Company?' said old Tim, 'company? Yes, I were in company of my thoughts. It's a bad habit as I've got, sir, all along of my infirmity, I s'pose, of talking to myself. And this here blessed Christmas I sat a-thinking of all the poor souls about here, and a wishing of 'em a merry Christmas all round in a cup of tea, as I do you sir, likewise, hoping I takes no liberty.'

'Timothy!' screamed his wife, 'what have you done with Lucy and Hetty?'

'They hain't a told, have they?' asked Timothy, looking sheepish. 'Well, then, I suppose I must make a clean breast of it. But, Ruth, my dear, don't'ee be angered. The young Squire gi'ed I half a crown for a Christmas box, and, thinks I, it is a windfall over and above trade, and should fall to them as has no regular crops. So I called it like, to myself, my tea party, and to-night I spent it at the shop, taking old bedrid Lucy Grave a little matter of tea and sugar, lame Nanny Bird a cake or two, and blind Hetty some crumpets and traycle. I were so main comfortable myself, I wanted to take some o' they a bit of cheer; but don't ee be angered. Ruth; I ought to ha' told thee, but you've been took up again me lately, and I were afeard of vexing thee. But I were wrong; I ought to have told thee, and I ax thy pardon, lass, for it. You see, sir, I were only amusing myself with saying over all I had said to the poor souls to-night; and so I were, as I said afore, keeping my tea party.'

'Mrs. Charmberry,' said the Rev. Ebenezer, with a curious sort of a choke in his throat, 'your husband has been keeping the season like a Christian, which is more than can be said of you or me. I am sure you won't be jealous of the blind, halt and lame that Timothy's been entertaining, like angels unawares. We have both had a lesson, I'm sure. God bless you both with all the blessings of the season Good night!"

'Oh, Timothy, I ain't worthy of you, the wicked, suspicious, mean wretch as I was!' sobbed Mrs. Charmberry, as she hugged her husband vigorously off his little legs, in the height of her penitence. 'I'll never put the vittles out of reach again, nor suspect you neither, as long as my name's Ruth Charmberry.'

And she kept her word.

THE SAN MATEO ASSESSMENT.—Says the Sacramento Record: The Attorney-General has taken steps to bring the San Mateo assessment matter before the Supreme Justices, and if they decide that the action of the Board of Supervisors in reducing the assessments is to be put aside, the collection of taxes on the original assessment will be enforced. A cotemporary states that a similar reduction to that of San Mateo has been practiced in Tulare county. There are probably yet other counties in which an attempt to evade taxation has been practiced, but the action of the Supreme Court will decide the point for all of them.

AT THE late meeting of the Presbytery, Brother W—— said, early in his ministry he and another brother were conducting a a meeting in which there was much religious interest. An old man gave expression to his joy by shouting, and continued it until he began to interrupt the services. Brother H—— said to Brother W——, "Go stop that old man's noise." He went to him and spoke a few words, and the shouting man at once became quiet. On his return Brother W—— asked what he said to quiet the old man so promptly. "I asked him for a dollar for foreign missions," he replied.

[COMMUNICATED]

BUCHANAN, December 29, 1870.

ED. EXPOSITOR:—Again the annual bell has tolled the closing of one year and the ushering in of another. This brings the holidays to a close, and judging from the number of parties given and the liberal patronage they have received, the people generally feel jubilant—more so than usual.

The entertainment given at Buchanan on the 23rd of December claims the most attention of any one we have had the pleasure of attending. First was a joint exhibition of the two schools. The exercises consisted of dialogues, declamations, select readings and singing, together with a paper—the "Scholars' Offering"—devoted to science, literature and general miscellany; motto, "Laureas super montem scientiae carpe"; editress, Miss Minnie Rea. It was spicy and contained many little jokes, which were warmly applauded. Many comments have followed, which demonstrates the fact that it commanded the undivided attention of the audience. The exhibition, as a whole, was a success, the scholars deporting themselves so well that the patrons feel encouraged in the cause of education. After this there was a well conducted ball, in which the greater part of the audience participated until the hour for supper came, when they, retiring to the dining room, found a nicely arranged table, well supplied with luxuries and dainties. There was abundance of sociability and good feeling manifested, from which we think another stream was added to the social chord. I. S.

THE ODD FELLOWS' COLLEGE AND HOME.—The Executive Committee of the Odd Fellows' College and Home met in San Francisco last week to consider the various propositions made by different towns and cities for the location of the institution at their respective localities, decided in favor of Napa City. The proposition of that place, which we clip from the Bulletin, is as follows:

To donate in a body 216 acres of the finest arable land situated just at the outskirts of Napa City; to give $30,000 cash. This amount has been fully subscribed by responsible parties, and is payable in one year. The Bank of Napa offers to discount it at one per cent., and take the obligation. The Napa folks also offer to place in the hands of the management of the College and Home a tract lying between the Kilbourne tract and the city of Napa, which is to be surveyed into lots and blocks, and the proceeds of the sale of every alternate lot will go the College and Home as an endowment fund. They also propose to place other lands contigious to the city in the hands of the management on the same terms—the whole amount of land so placed being 360 acres, and the proceeds from which it is expected will net the College and Home $30,000 for an Endowment Fund. The whole value of the donation, including money and lands, endowments, etc., is over $150,000. With this magnificent starter, and with the support of the wealthy and powerful Order of Odd Fellows, the enterprise cannot fail of success.

In addition to this princely gift the California Pacific Railroad have agreed to furnish free transportation for all time to the students of the College and Home. The action of the Executive Committee will almost certainly be approved by the Odd Fellows' College and Home Association.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—The Mariposa Free Press of the 30th ult. has the following:

On Friday last, Frank Whitford, an employe of the Pine Tree Vein, in Bear Valley, was descending the ladder in the mine with powder and fuse, when, from some unknown cause, the powder exploded, mangling and mutilating him in a dreadful manner. Both eyes were put out, his nose blown off, one arm torn off below the elbow, and other portions of his body literally torn in shreds. His mangled remains were borne to the surface of the ground, and notwithstanding the frightful nature of the injuries, the unfortunate man survived an hour and a half—had perfect conciousness of his condition and gave directions about his affairs. Mr. Whitford's duty was superintending the loading of the blasts, and at the time of the occurrence had attached to his person a number of cartridges, some fuse and caps. The powder used is a compound of giant powder and the ordinary gunpowder, and is called Hercules powder. It only burns slowly upon application of ordinary fire, but explodes by percussion. It is surmised that in descending one of the cartridges may have suddenly struck a round of the ladder. Mr. Whitford has resided in this county several years, and was highly respected by all who knew him. He formerly worked at Hunter's Valley. He was a native of Ohio and forty-two years of age.

The Good Templars' Lodge at Salinas has disbanded.

WOULDN'T REGISTER HIM. — "Old Gabe," a negro living on King's river, made application to our County Clerk, Mr. Harry Dixon, a few days since to be registered, but his request was refused. Gabe got very wrathy at this and swore vengance upon the officer. He says he will spend every cent that he has in the world or make the Clerk register him, so we may expect soon to hear that an efficient officer is involved in a law suit with a negro,, simply because he will not bow to the mandates of radicalism, and thus perjure himself, but discharged his duty. Mr. Dixon took an oath to obey the laws of this State, and one of those laws says that only white male citizens, above the age of twenty-one shall be registered, and until that law is repealed by the Legislature of this State, Clerks have but one course to pursue and obey their oaths of office, viz: To refuse registration to negroes. It is true Clerks in other counties in this State have violated their oaths of office, but that does not signify that all must do likewise.

SAN DOMINGO.—The San Domingo "Ring," says the Examiner, resort to a variety of misrepresentations and falsehoods to induce the Senate to confirm the treaty of annexation. They allege that if our Government does not annex the island it will fall into the hands of some European power, and they exagerate the capabilities of the island and blow about its products in a Munchausenish style. It is singular that the "Ring" of annexationists in manufacturing inducements to influence the Senate to confirm their scheme, have overlooked the controlling power of codfish over Radical legislation. Let the "Ring" swear—which it can do without violence to its leagued conscience—and prove by its standard witnesses—which nothing is esier—that the bay of Samana and all the coves and inlets of San Doming swarm with codfish, and the Senate will at once confirm the treaty of annexation.

GLORY!—Georgia has gone Democratic. Notwithstanding the swindling election laws concocted by Ackerman, and forced upon the people by a Radical Legislature; the Federal patronage, and overawing bayonets of Grant & Co., noble old Georgia has been released, in a measure, from the iron hand of "loil" Republican regime. The negrocracy has been overthrown, and a white men's government instituted instead. The Democracy carried nearly every Congressional district in the State. This news, we know, will be a healing balsam to the wounded heart of many an old Georgian. We hope Grant will give us a few more bayonet elections. They work well.

THE FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS.—What's the matter with Horace Greeley? He is speaking out in meeting. This is the way he discourses of the present Congress:

The Forty-first Congress is not likely to go down to history with a commendable reputation for good morals, Two of its members have been expelled for selling cadetships, one resigned to escape expulsion, three or four others got off only by the hard swearing of their accomplices, one has convicted himself of attempting to procure counterfeit money to pass among the poor negroes, one is charged with cheating soldiers' widows out of their pensions, and now the indictment of another for bigamy is reported.

LATE WAR NEWS.—A gentleman who arrived in this town on the last stage from below informs us that when he left a rumor was prevalent that the French had gained imprtant advantages in a late sortie from Paris, compelling the Prussians to evacuate Versailles. If the rumor is true, and we are constrained to belive that it is, we may look for the raising of the siege of Paris at an early day. We have only been surprised that a city of the size of Paris could be kept in siege so long by an army of five hundred thousand men.

NORTH CAROLINA DEBT.—The North Carolina Senate has adopted a resolve to the effect that "the enormous appropriations made and squandered by the late Convention and General Assembly in the years 1868–'69 and '70 were conceived in fraud and consummated in corruption, and for that reason there is neither moral, constitutional, nor legal obligation binding the State to pay them." The Committee on the Judiciary was instructed to "inquire what legislation, under the Constitution, is practicable to consolidate or compromise the present State debt."

WOULD CARRY MORE.—The Cincinnati Enquirer says: Grant has sent Bob Douglas to Chicago to assist John Logan in his efforts to break into the United States Senate. Robert don't amount to much. A pair of his father's old breeches would carry more influence.

SOME of our Eastern cotemporaries are advocating the appointment of a special Congresslonal Committee to hunt up that "faith in mankind" which the President lost by reason of Porter's letter.

IT said that Grant has already expended $150,000 on the San Domingo job, and hence his great anxiety to have the treaty ratified.

COMPLETION OF A MIGHTY WORK.—The telegraph brings information to-day, that workmen in the tunnel of Mt. Cennis, toiling from opposite directions have met, and the perforation of the lofty Alpine summit is complete. A more daring work never was attempted by man, and its completion marks one of the grandest triumphs of the age. The project for a tunnel through Mt. Cenis was first suggested to the Sardinian Government in in 1857, by Chevalier Henry Mans, and it received almost immediate sanction. The tunnel was to be twice as long as any other in the world, and was to pierce a mountain of flinty hardness, a distance of over seven miles and a half at an elevation of 4.092 feet above the level of the sea, in the region of almost perpetual storms. In the face of difficulties such as men never had encountered before, the engineers and surveyors prosecuted their work, estimated the cost, and while the contract terms included 25 years for the completion of the work, these men predicted that it would be accomplished early in 1871. The telegram of to day more than confirms their prediction. The northern entrance of the tunnel is at the French town of Fourneaux, the southern, near the town of Bardoneche, on the river Mardovine, in Italy. It pierces Mount Cenis 2,400 feet below the ancient pass or road over the summit, and at the deepest is 5,400 feet below the surface. In height it is 19 feet, and in breadth 25 25 feet, spacious enough to admit double railway tracks. The perforation was accomplished by means of pondorous drill machines, driven by compressed air engines with drill heads or borers weighing 600 pounds each. The work has progressed steadily from November, 1860, to the present time, a temporary railroad having been used in the interim by which travelers were taken over the summit in cars drawn by stationary engines, and running on three tracks.—Daily Bulletin, Dec. 27, 1870.

MODESTO.—The Stanislaus County News gives a synopsis of the business houses and business men of the new town of Modesto, which shows the rapid growth and flourishing condition of the new railroad terminus. The News says:

"For rapid growth, we do not believe that our town has had an equal since the flush days of mining excitement in the early history of our State. Only two months have passed since Messrs McHenry & Ross moved the first building—rather a small structure, 18x24—into the town. The place now contains not less than seventy-five buildings of all descriptions, many of which may be classed as imposing structures. The depot buildings of the R. R. Company, now nearly completed, are larger and more commodious than any outside of San Francisco and Sacramento which shows that a heavy business is anticipated at this place."

RELIGIOUS NOTICES.

There will be regular preaching once in each month at the following named places, Rev. J. H. Neal pastor;

First Sabbath at the Mississippi School House at 11 o'clock

TOWN AND COUNTY.

WE do not believe in giving countenance to the shedding of human blood either among the whites or Indians, but it appears to us that when one Indian kills another it would be about as well to pass the matter by as to go to the expense of arresting the offender and keeping him at public expenses for months and months, and finally costing the county hundreds of dollars to summon a grand jury to investigate the charges, and then incurring another large bill to try him after he has been indicted. If the offender, by chance, should be convicted and hung, would it have any good effects on the morals of the community? To be sure not. What does the hanging of an Indian amount to? Nothing. Who is benifitted if they are sent to prison? Nobody. The Indians would still continue to buy whiskey, get drunk and kill one another, just as before. The ends gained do not justify the expense, and besides no greater blessing could betall this county than the extinction of the poor "Lo's," and any thing that will assist in getting them out of the way should be encouraged. Within the last nine months this county has been put to an expense of at least one thousand dollars to try an Indian murder case, and the end is not yet. The Indians are still in jail, and a jury will have to be summoned at great expense to try them again, at the next term of the District Court. A grand jury will have to be summoned to investigate the case of the two Indians charged with the homicide, in October last, and no good can result to the community, even though they are indicted, tried convicted and hung. We would suggest that henceforth when an Indian kills another, that the officers just overlook the occurrence; public sentiment will uphold them in so doing. If, however, it is thought best to stop the noble red men from killing one another, let some means be provised to prevent their obtaining liquor and it will put a stop, in a great measure, to it.

THE BALL.—Never have we in our lives attended a party so pleasant, or one which gave such general satisfaction, as the New Year's party given at the Court House on last Monday evening by the citizens of this town. The hall is the best in the county; the music was surpassingly fine, and the supper as good as was ever spread in this section. About seventy couple was present, and all joined eagerly in the mazy dance, and beat time with their feet to the enlivening strains of the entrancing music. No more propitious occasion could have been found for such a party, and certainly no more fitting or innocent manner of celebrating it could have been adopted. No noisy confusion, no drunken men, no wrangling—all was merry and happy. After the dancing ceased, a resolution of thanks to the citizens of Millerton was adopted, and also one to the gentlemenly musicians, Messrs. Mickley, Myers, and Beckett for their most excellent music, and for the many courtesies extended by them. The ladies (we must say one word for them), who graced the occason with their presence were pictures of health and beauty, and were greatly admired by the opposite sex. Millerton has never known before so large a party, nor one so pleasant in all its details, and hence will be long remembered.

AFFRAY—MAN SHOT.—On yesterday morning two men got into an altercation in McComb's hotel at this place. Mr. McComb interposed and attempted to quell the disturbance and finally put one of them out. The row was still continued and weapons were finallly drawn, when one of the parties, named Robert Carter, discharged his revolver at an adversary, named Heron, but missing his mark, shot Mr. J. R. McComb in the fleshy part of the right thigh. Heron, who was reinforced by a brother after the disputants were ejected from the hotel, it is said by some drew a derringer on Carter first, but others contend that the Herons were unarmed, or rather had no other weapons than brickbats, and that the other party was the first to draw a weapon. The parties were all arrested and the matter will undergo proper legal investigation. Dr. Leach was summoned to attend the injured man, and he informed us that the wound was not of a serious nature.

THE INGATHERING OF ISRAEL.—A discourse, or harangue, with the above heading for a subject, was delivered at the Court House in this place on last Sunday afternoon by Madam Catherine Schurtzs, a traveling missionary. The lady believes —or says she does—that the millenium is near at hand, and that the elect will soon be gathered together, and she expects to live to see it. The lecture was disjointed and poorly delivered. The lady, strange to say, made no converts, and scarcely any money.

ARRESTED.—The Indian, Dry Creek Tom, who shot and killed one of his own race near the brick kiln, above town, in October last, was arrested a few days since on King's river, by Mr. Jack Hazlett, who brought him to this place and handed over to Sheriff Walker. He was lodged in jail.

RELIFIOUS services will be held in the Court House at this place on next Sunday morning and evening at the usual hours. On account of their being preaching the Sunday School will not meet till half-past two o'clock in the afternoon.

LIST of letters remaing in the Millerton P. O., January 1st, 1871: Henry Chambers, G. W. Evans, Mrs. A. E. Filloon, Jesus E. Gonzales, Master Aug. Hall, Mrs. Mary L. Jewett, H. McDonald, Henry Slavine, Joe Wright, Jas Young.

THE NEW YEAR.—The New Year was ushered in at this place with out any noisy demonstrations. We are of the opinion that but little more whiskey was drank on that day than on any other.

RAIN WANTED.—A little rain is sadly needed down this way just about this time, as farming is now at a stand-still for the want of it.

WE learn that a ball will be given at Centerville, in Caldwell's hotel, on next Monday evenining in honor of the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans.

AN effort will be made to establish a social club in this town. The object, of course, will be sociability. The club proposes, if it is organized to have one dancing party each week.

THE delinquent tax list of this county passed into the hands of the Auditor on last Monday. All persons who desire to pay their taxes before the delinquent list passes into the hands of the District Attorney, must make application to the Auditor for a certificate of the amount due, and then make payment to the Treasurer.

PAIN-KILLER
PROP'S
PERRY DAVIS & SON PROVIDENCE R.I.
1840 1870

PAIN is supposed to be the lot of us poor mortals, as inevitable as death itself, and liable at any time to come upon us. Therefore it is important that remedial agents should be at hand to be used on an emergency, when the seminal principle lodged in the system shall develop itself, and we feel the excruciating agonies of pain, or the depressing influence of disease. Such a remedial agent exists in the PAIN KILLER, whose fame has made the circuit of the globe Amid the eternal ices of the polar regions or beneath the intolerable and burning sun of the tropics, its virtues are known and appreciated. Under all latitudes, from the one extreme to the other, suffering humanity has found relief from many of its ills by its use. The wide and broad area over which this medicine has spread, attests its value and potency. From a small beginning, the Pain Killer has pushed gradually along, making its own highway, solely by its virtues.

Such unexampled success and popularity has brought others into the field, who have attempted under similarity of name, to usurp the confidence of the people and turn it to their own selfishness and dishonesty, but their efforts have proved fruitless, while the Pain Killer is still growing in public favor.

The Great Pictorial Annual.

Hostetter's California Almanac for 1871, for distribution, gratis, throughout California, Oregon, and other States and Territories of the Pacific slope, will be published about the 1st of January, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise in the causes prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanse, the miner, the farmer, the planter, and professional man; and the calculations have been made for such meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive calendar..

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS —the staple tonic and alterative of more than one half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable recipes for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected. Among the annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. Send for copies to the nearest dealer in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. The BITTERS are sold in every city, town and village, and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world.

PACIFIC STATES!

California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Arizona, Utah, British Columbia, and Alaska,

Elegantly engraved on copper and colored in counties. Fifth edition, thoroughly revised and brought down to date 1870. It shows the great Overland Railroad, also the proposed Northern and Southern Pacific Railroads and their connections: also all the railroads projected in California and Oregon.

Upon the same sheet on a less scale are the maps of Alaska, and a complete Railroad map of the United States.

No other map can compare with this edition in fulness of detail, and beauty and acuracy of its typography.

An enterprise of such magnitude and importance as this large and elegant copper plate map, in order to be properly appreciated, should be in every office, school house and dwelling. Those wishing an agency should apply immediately for terms, to A. L. BANCROFT & CO., Publishers,

ADDRESS TO

—THE—

NERVOUS AND DEBILITATED,

WHOSE SUFFERINGS

HAVE BEEN

Protracted from Hidden Causes,

AND WHOSE CASES REQUIRE

PROMPT TREATMENT

to Render Existence Desirable.

If you are suffering or have suffered, from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debiitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky or flocky, or is it ropy on settling? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling on this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and tand have but little appetite, and you attribute his to dyspepsia, or liver complaint?

NOW, READER,

self abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health,

MAKE THE MAN.

DID YOU EVER THINK

that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business men, are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health.

You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, or palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged; they are always pleasant and polite in the society of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflated by running to excess. These will not only but also those they do business with or for.

RUIN THEIR CONSTITUTION,

How many men from, badly cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—

IDIOCY, LUNACY, PARALYSIS,

spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a Diuretic.

HELMBOLD'S

FLUID EXTRACT

BUCHU

is the great Diuretic, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing.

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

PATENT

ARION PIANO!

A FEW REASONS WHY

—THE—

ARION PIANO!

IS SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

The ARION PIANO-FORTE has Greater Power than any other Piano-Forte manufactured

It Will Stand in Tune Longer, and in its mechanical construstion it is more perfect, and theretore more durable than any instrument constructed in the usual modern style.

The arrangement of the Agraffe, the manner of stringing, the form and peculiar form and arrangement of the Iron Frame, Supersedes all Others.

The use of a bar, (which is a part of the Iron Frame) on a line with the heavy steel stringing, gives

Great Strength

Where most needed, and in this respect all other Pianos fail.

The construction of the WREST PLANK, into which the Tuning Pins are inserted, is such that it is impossible for the pins to become loosened, or the Wrest Plank itself to split, as is too often the case in other Piano Fortes,

The Extraordina.y Evenness

Throughout the entire scale, the excellent Singing Quality, the

Length and Purity of Vibration,

All go to prove what we claim, viz: that the

ARION PIANO-FORTE

Is the Best Instrument manufactured,

THE PATENT

ARION PIANOS

Are used exclusively in the American

Conservatories of Music of New York City.

The most severe test a Piano can receive is constant use in a Conservatory.

Read the Following:

It affords me much pleasure to give you, in these few lines, a very sincere testimonial for the Piano-Fortes of your manufacture. We have now used the "Patent Arion Pianos" in our Conservatories for a year, and have had a fair opportunity of testing their durability during that time. The Pianos have been played upon almost constantly from morning till night, and a Piano must indeed be a good one when it will bear such constant use without showing signs of defection. As for remaining in tune, it outrivals any Piano known to me.

Their peculiar sweetness of tone in the treble, (as compared to other Pianos with the ordinary metal agraffe arrangement,) is so striking that I have had pupils remark, while taking their lessons, that although they had at home what they supposed to be one of the best makes of Pianos, still the treble was very wiry-toned compared with the ARION.

What makes them still more desirable is their uniform volume of tone, which enables an artist to perform a composition in its true character.

In total. I can conscientiously endorse all that is claimed by the ARION PIANO-FORTE COMPANY for their superb Instruments, as I consider them superior to any other make.

Congratulating you upon the great success you have obtained in the manufacture of so perfect an instrument, I remain yours,

Very truly.

HENRY SCHROEDER, DIRECTOR.

AGENTS WANTED.

We want first class and responsible Agents in every city and town where we have not already appointed them.

We Have Just Published

Our Annual Illustrated Pamphlet, which contains a full description of the interior construction of the PATENT ARION PIANO-FORTE, and all the other leading Pianos of the principal makes; illustrated with cuts, thus contrasting the ARION with all other first class Pianos, and proving

WHY AND WHERE

Our Pianos are superior to any in the market.

Our pamphlet contains engravings of all the different styles of instruments that we manufacture, giving a full description of each, so that a person can select the style he may desire to order, with the assurance that they will receive just as good a Piano as if they were in our warerooms to select it. We have sold over Five Thousand Pianos, many of them being shipped great distances, and we have never yet received the first complaint. As we give a written guarantee with every Piano we manufscture, for five years, the purchaser runs no risk.

Don't fail to write for our pamphlet, which we mail FREE, and when you write state what paper you saw this notice in.

N. B.—We caution the public from purchasing a cheap Piano, which has recently been put in the market, bearing the name "Arion." All genuine Arion Pianos bear the name "Patent Arion," and can only be purchased from our New York Warerooms, or our authorized Agents throughout the United States.

TO FARMERS!

I HAVE BOUGHT THE RIGHT for Fresno County to manufacture and sell Leggett's celebrated gates. The only patent gate that has stood the test of practical use, and found to be what it was represented. This gate can be opened at a distance of twenty feet, and closed again after passing through, without ever dismounting from your wagons. The opening apparatus being above the reach of stock there is no danger of its being opened by them. It is simple in construction, can be easily managed and understood, and is not likely to get out of repair.

The right to use it will be sold to any person for the low sum of $5 00, and gates manufactured for parties desiring them in the most substantial manner, at

PRICES TO SUIT THE TIMES.

I intend erecting one of these gates in Millerton and farmers are requested to call and examine it before purchasing, and be convinced that it is

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD!

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous.—Inveterate cases of scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tennant of the organism undermines the constitution, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops in one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear.—Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief and at length cure by the use of this SARSAPARILLA.: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm and other visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal or Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these maladies by any medicine. But long, continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations and Female Diseases are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute directions for each are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion, or Inflamation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do from, the rankling poisons in the blood. The SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fear, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Her Bright Smile Haunts Me Still.

'Tis years since last we met,
And we may not meet again;
I have struggled to forget,
But the struggle was in vain,
For her voice lives on the breeze,
And her spirit comes at will;
In the midnight on the seas,
Her bright smile haunts me still.
For her voice, &c.

At the first sweet dawn of light,
When I gaze upon the deep,
Her form still greets my sight,
While the stars their vigils keep.
When I close my waking eyes,
Sweet dreams my senses fill;
And from sleep when I arise,
Her bright smile haunts me still.
When I close, &c,

I have sailed 'neath alien skies,
I have trod the desert path;
I have seen the storm arise,
Like a giant in his wrath.
Every danger I have known,
That a reckless life can fill;
Yet her presence is not flown,
Her bright smile haunts me still.
Every danger, &c.

A Compliment to Lieutenant-Governor Holden.

The Marin News is out in favor of Lieutenant-Governor Holden for the next Democratic candidate for Governor, and speaks of him in the following laudatory terms:

"If we recollect aright, in 1856 Colonel Holden was elected to the State Assembly by the voters of Stanislaus county; and for the able manner in which he fulfilled the duties of that post, the citizens of Stanislaus and Tuolumne sent him to the State Senate. In the fall of 1859, he removed to Mendocino county; and in 1861 was elected Senator to represent Mendocino, Lake and Napa counties. In 1864, he was elected County Judge of Mendocino, in which capacity, after serving some eighteen months, he was ejected from the office by decree of the Radical Courts. Immediately afterward the people of Mendocino sent him to represent them in the Assembly of 1865–'66.

In justice to Governor Holden, we may mention here, that there are few Democrats in California, but who remember how nobly at the head of the forlorn hope of those 20 Democrats composing the body, he fearlessly vindicated the rights of the people—exposing and defeating many of the corrupt schemes for plunder which were concocted during the session; thereby in the main, lying the foundation for the success of the Democratic party in this State which followed in the fall of 1867.

In the Democratic Convention at San Francisco, in 1867, which put forth the State ticket, Governor Holden, as all who were present know, had a host of friends, who desired to make him the standard-bearer of the campaign. It was urged, though, at that time, as a reason for not giving him the nomination, that he had been "too good a Democrat to succeed" in that canvass. His reply at that time should be recollected; it is worthy of being followed by every Democrat: "Gentemen," said he, "I believe I can be elected if nominated; but I am an interested party, and hence cannot so impartially judge as yourselves. If you think Mr. Haight, or any other man, can get more votes than I can, for God's sake nominate him. Give me the second place on the ticket—unless you think I will injure it; if you do leave me off. Everything for principle; nothing for any one particular man." Holden was nominated for Lieutenat-Governor, and has since presided over the Senate for two sessions; and although admitted to be a partizan, during both these periods his fairness and impartiality in ruling won for him the unqualified confidence of political friends—disarmed his enemies, and called forth the highest commendations of all."

We Need Mexico. — The Galveston (Texas) Bulletin thinks the United States needs Mexico. It says: "Mexico is more essential to us this day than was California when we accepted that vast region from the hands of necessity. Necessity again calls loudly upon us, and we must hear her wailing voice. She has a dowry—more wealth than had the mines of ancient Golconda—and with this we propose to pay off our national debt. The silver mines of three States in Mexico will pay off our debt and leave us the richest nation on earth. To her these mines are valueless. To us they are invaluable."

A negro had a severe attack of rheumatism, which finally settled in his foot. He bathed it, rubbed it, and swathed it, but all to no purpose. Finally, tearing away the bandages, he stuck it out, and, with a shake of his fist over it, exclaimed, "Ache away, den, ole feller; ache away. I shan't do nuffin more fur yer; dis chile can stan' it as long as you ken; so, ache away."

Two gentlemen were discussing the merits of the Baptist and Universalist persuasions, when the defender of the latter said: "Why you Baptists can't save over three per cent of the people, while we guarantee 99 out of every 100 ordinary sinners."

Immense Increase of Population.—New York and its immediate suburbs have increased in population in the last ten years, 1,000,000. The increase in the Metropolitan Police District has been over 800,000—about 100 per cent.

When the cold winter wind blows, take care of your nose that it don't get froze, and wrap up your toes in warm wollen hose. The above, we suppose, was written in prose, by some one who knows the effect of cold snows.

William Rowe was arrested in a Western town for beating his wife with a hoe—as if a man hadn't a right to hoe his own Rowe.

HOUSE, FARM AND GARDEN.

About Pruning.—It is the fate of all good ideas to be pushed to extremes. Ever since the day when the ass broke into that Grecian vineyard, and taught by his browsing that some good follows summer pruning, thousands of leaves have been stripped off, and millions of vines injured by a too free use of the pruning knife. We have labored as sincerly as any to show how much is lost in this way; and have pointed out that pruning, as generally practiced, tends to weaken vitality and pave the way for future diseases. But we observe that some of our pupils are going to another extreme. Pruning not at all, is getting to be a popular, but too common cry; a little learning is not at all a dangerous thing.

Darwin has shown that there is amongst individual plants a struggle for life always going on. The stronger crowds out the weaker ones; but so long as it lives the weaker has some effect on the stronger one.

The same law is true of branches as of distinct plants, each struggling for light. The vigorous shoot shades the weaker; but that in turn somewhat interferes with the strong one, and prevents it from utilizing the light to the best advantage. Thus it will be seen, that to have the best results, we must regulate this struggle in nature. A dozen branches well developed, and having the ability to display all their leafy charms to the admiring sunlight, will be worth much more to the plant than double the number closely interfering with one another.

Manure for Potatoes.—Dr. Augustus Voelker, of England, during the past year has reached valuable conclusions as to the application of manure to potatoes. He sums them up thus in "The Journal of the Royal Agricultural Society."

1. The greatest increase came from the application to an acre of 400 pounds of mineral superphosphates—200 of potash salts, and 200 of sulphate of ammonia.
2. Dung did about as well.
3. The absence of sulphate of ammonia was attended with a marked falling off, and nitrate of soda cannot replace it.
4. The compound above named beats Peruvian guano.
5. Common salt does no good but harm to potatoes.
6. The above mixture gave a crop of twelve tons to the acre on light land; and the same unmanured yielded but half.

"Does your knitting machine make a seam?" asked an old lady of the proprietress of a knitting machine. "It seems not," was the reply.

HOWE MACHINE COMPANY'S

WORLD RENOWNED

SEWING MACHINES!

Paris Exposition Universelle, 1867.

TWO GRAND PRIZES,

GRAND CROSS OF THE LEGION OF HONOR,

To Elias Howe, Jr., as Inventor,

And Gold Medal for

THE BEST SEWING MACHINE.

Highest Honors ever Conferred

FOR SEWING MACHINES.

THE Machine which bears his name has long been regarded as the standard of excellence, and has become celebrated the world over. The work done by these Machines is unsurpassed—sewing the thinnest muslin or the thickest cloth, with equal facility; and requiring no extra adjusting for uneven thickness or passing over seams; it turns its own hem as it sews, sewing a seam stronger than the fabric itself. To see it hem, fell, tuck, braid, cord, quilt and gather, it seems more like a thing of life than a machine moved by the will of the operator. It is capable of doing any description of sewing that is required in a family; and also for seamstresses and dressmakers it will be found invaluable. They seldom, or never give any trouble in operating, and in a word, are the

MOST SATISFACTORY SEWING MACHINES IN USE.

Notwithstanding their great superiority, they are sold at prices as low as other first-class Machines.

A Medallion likeness of Mr. Howe is imbedded in the plates of every Howe Machine, without which none are genuine. Every purchaser of a Sewing Machine, should inquire for

Elias Howe, Jr's Sewing Machines,

And if they are not sold in their vicinity, address the General Agency for Illustrated Circulars, etc., and do not purchase until you have thoroughly investigated these renowned machines.

PRIVATE MEDICAL AID.

QUICK CURES AND MODERATE CHARGES!

DR. W. K. DOHERTY'S

PRIVATE

Medical and Surgical Institute,

No. 519 Sacramsnto Street,

Corner of Leidesdorff Street (a few doors below What Cheer House).

(Private entrance on Leidesdorff street.)

Established expressly to afford the afflicted sound and scientific medical aid in the treatment and cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases. cases of Secrecy, & all Sexual Disorders.

TO THE AFFLICTED,

Dr. W. K. Doherty returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he continues to consult at his Institute for the cure of chronic diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive and Genito-Urinary Organs, and all private diseases, viz: Syphilis, in all its forms and stages, Seminal Weakness, and all the horrid consequences of self-abuse, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Nocturnal and Diurnal Emissions, Sexual Debility, Diseases of the Back and Loins, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, etc., etc.., and he hopes that his long experience and successful practice will continue to ensure him a share of public patronage. By the practice of many years in Europe and the United States, he is enabled to apply the most efficient and successful remedies against diseases of all kinds. He uses no mercury, charges moderate, treats his patients in a correct and honorable way and has references of unquestionable veracity, from men of known respectability and high standing in society. All parties consulting him by letter or otherwise, will receive the best and gentlest treatment and implicit secrecy.

To Females.

When a female is in trouble, or afflicted with disease, as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of sight, loss of muscular power, palpitation of the heart, irritability, nervousness, extreme urinary difficulties, derangement of digestive functions, general debility, vaginitis, all diseases of the womb hysteria, sterility, and all other diseases peculiar to females she should go or write at once to the celebrated female doctor, W. K. Doherty, at his Medical Institute, and consult him about her troubles and diseases. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately and save yourself from painful sufferings and premature death. All Married Ladies whose delicate health or other circumstances prevent an increase in their families, should write or call at Dr. W. K. Doherty's Medical Institute, and they will receive every possible relief and help. The Doctor's offices are so arranged that he can be consulted without fear of observation.

To Correspondents.

Patients residing in any part of the State, how ever distant, who may desire the opinion and advice of Dr. Doherty in their respective cases, and who think proper to submit a written statement of such, in preference to holding a personal interview, are respectfully assured that their communications will be held most sacred and confidential.

If the case be fully and candidly described, personal communication will be annecessary, as instructions for diet, regimen, and the general treatment of the case, (including the remedies) will be forwarded without delay, and in such a manner as to convey no idea of the purport of the letter or parcel thus transmitted. Consultation by letter, or otherwise, FREE. Permanent cure guaranteed, or no pay. Address,

W. K. DOHERTY, M. D.,
San Francisco, Cal.

Spermatorrhœa.

Dr. Doherty has just published an important pamphlet embodying his own views and experiences in relation to Impotence or Virility, being a short treatise on Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness, Nervous and Physical Debility, consequent on this affection, and other diseases of the Sexual Organs.

This little work contains information of the utmost value to all, whether married or single, and will be sent FREE by mail on receipt of six cents in postage stamps for return postage.

THE ELLIPTIC

SEWING MACHINES ! !

WARRANTED THE BEST.

THE Elliptic Sewing Machines are manufactured and warranted by the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company. The late and important improvements enable us to guarantee to every purchaser that the Elliptic Machine will do more work, better work, and a greater variety of work than any other Sewing Machine now in use. The economy of the Elliptic Machine in a family is almost incredible; with one, a good operator can do the work of twelve hands. By it, the making of garments is reduced from a question of hours to one of minutes, as the following table will show:

(It is not to be understood that the following table is the time to make the garments, but to do the stitching only.)

AYERS' CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Coughs, Asthma and Consumption, etc.,

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy ror pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given against incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and, indeed, as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchittis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

WHEELER & WILSON.

THE GREAT TRIAL OF SEWING MACHINES.

THE GRANDEST IN THE WORLD.

The Judges, the whole world; and the trial fifteen years duration.

PRACTICAL USE THE TEST!

THE UNIVERSAL VERDICT:

"THE WHEELER and WILSON SEWING MACHINE THE CHAMPION!"

AS A HOLIDAY PRESENT NOTHING WOULD BE MORE APPRECIATED THAN ONE OF THESE MACHINES

THESE UNEQUALED MACHINES DO ALL the different work required to be done in a family, and make all the different kinds of Stitches without the complications of other machines.

All persons will please examine the Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machines before purchasing any other.

The Wheeler & Wilson as is well known, has won at nearly every trial in which it has competed the highest award of merit. The representatives of other machines, ever confident, have entered the lists, time and again, only to be defeated; and finding it imposible to compete fairly, have endeavored to decry the value of premiums. They are not slow, however, to boast of a few they have received. But in the grand trial, daily use throughout the world, where only true merit finds favor, and superiority wins the race, the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine stands triumphantly the Champion by the verdict of the people.

THESE MACHINES ARE ADAPTED TO EVERY VARIETY OF SEWING!

From the lightest muslins to the heaviest cloths. They work equally well upon Silk, Linen, Woolen or Cotton goods, with Silk, Linen or Cotton thread; Seaming, Quilting, Gathering, Hemming, Felling, Cording, Tucking, Braiding, Embroidering and making Button Holes, with the greatest facility.

If it be inconvenient for the purchaser to visit the salesroom, the order may be forwarded to the office, and it will be as faithfully filled as if the selection had been made personally.

Full instructions, recently compiled, and giving information upon every point in detail, accompany each machine, and enable the most inexperienced to operate without difficulty.

Our interest in the successful working of Machines is not second to that of the purchaser, and we esteem it a privilege to aid by correspondence or otherwise, any person requiring it.

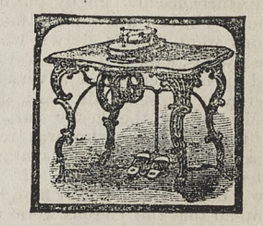
FLORENCE

SEWING MACHINES



The FLORENCE has now been used on the Pacific Coast seven years, its merits are known, its reputation established.

It is here in deily use in more than six thousand homes, and is effectually speakIng for itself, like

"GOLD TRIED IN THE FIRE."

Competition and opposition—fair and unfair—have not consumed or injured it. It stands the practical test upon a greater range of work than any other Family Sewing Machine in use.

If there is one within a thousand miles of San Francisco not working well, if informed of it, I will fix it for nothing and pay all Express charges.

Shoemakers, Tailors, and Glove-makers are invited to examine our New Florence Manufacturing Machine.

Descriptive Circulars and Samples of Sewing sent free on application.
